

Donald Boisvert

Donald Boisvert is Associate Professor (and incoming Chair) in the Department of Religion at Concordia University in Montreal, where he also teaches in the Sexuality Studies program. Boisvert's research interests include the history of Christianity, religion, gender and sexuality (particularly religion and same-sex relations, and religions and masculinities), religions of Canada (with an emphasis on Roman Catholicism in Québec), and the sociology of religion. In addition to several journal articles and book chapters, his publications include Out on Holy Ground: Meditations on Gay Men's Spirituality (The Pilgrim Press, 2000) and Sanctity and Male Desire: A Gay Reading of Saints (The Pilgrim Press, 2004). Boisvert is also co-editor (with Jay Emerson Johnson) of the ground-breaking two-volume edition Queer Religion (Praeger Publishers, 2012).
